The U.S. Dept. of Energy studied HOCL fog use in a hospital setting
They concluded:

"killed 100% of the micro-organisms on all materials, except carpets..."

There was no microbes re-occurrence on decontaminated coupons 48 hours after."

"Fixtures, Furniture, Electrical and Electronic equipment... no discoloration or damage was observed."

"As compared to gaseous Hydrogen Peroxide, Chlorine Dioxide and Ozone,

This application requires neither thorough pre-cleaning of the surfaces, nor special safety measures."

"Manual cleaning methods are completely ineffective in disinfecting airborne pathogens via aerosols in healthcare environments."
